About Me

An experienced actuary and data scientist with a proven track record of successfully leading and training actuarial teams on P&C pricing and analytics projects. Proficient in SQL, SAS, Python, R, TW-Emblem, Classifier, Radar and git; I am passionate about combining and improving traditional actuarial models by using data science and machine learning techniques. I have supported and enabled actuarial teams in building automated and reproducible analyses thereby reducing the time spent on mundane tasks and increasing the time spent on improving models and generating meaningful and actionable insights.

Work Experience
